

London Landmarks

Here are some of London's famous landmarks.

The London Eye This was built in 1999 and is sometimes called the Millennium Wheel.	Buckingham Palace This is the Queen's London home.	Big Ben This is a famous clock tower and it is next to the Houses of Parliament.	Tower Bridge One of the most famous bridges over the Thames. The middle can open to let big boats through.	The Monument This tall tower was built to remember the Great Fire of London.	The Tower of London This tower has had many famous prisoners, including Anne Boleyn and Guy Fawkes.

London Transport

Here are some of the best ways to travel around London

Underground Also called the Tube	Bus	Overground train	Taxi

Key Vocabulary
United Kingdom	The United Kingdom, or U.K. is made up of 4 countries: England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland.
City	A city is a big town where lots of people live and work. They are usually busy and often noisy.
Capital City	A capital city is the main city in a country. The capital of England is London, which is also the capital of the U.K.
Landmark	A landmark is an important or historic place. One of London's Landmarks is Big Ben.

Where in the world is London?

London is the capital city of the United Kingdom. The U.K. is made up of four countries - England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland.

Each country also has a capital city. London is the capital city of England as well as the whole of the U.K. Edinburgh is the capital of Scotland, Cardiff is the capital of Wales and Belfast is the capital of Northern Ireland.

