

Why is Collective Worship important?

Collective Worship is required in school by law. However parents may choose to withdraw their child. Monkfield Park aims to not only fulfil the legal requirement but to ensure that the act of collective worship gives opportunities for reflection; contributing to personal, spiritual growth and developing an awareness of community.

What do we intend Collective Worship to look like at Monkfield Park?

Our intent is that we will provide an opportunity for pupils to experience worship in which God is the focus. Help pupils discover their place in the world. Promoting a feeling of community in the school through a sharing of experiences and feelings, celebrating gifts, talents and achievements. Establishing and reinforcing the shared values of the school community.

Collective Worship

When implementing Collective Worship you will see ...

- Prayer or time for reflection
- Singing
- Visitors from the community for example - fair trade workers, Gener8, local ministers
- British values
- The Monkfield Way
- Big questions
- Celebration Assembly/Golden Assembly
- Whole school, key stage and class assemblies
- Class Assemblies allowing children to share their learning with parents
- All teachers involved in delivering worship

How Collective Worship will impact our learners?

Children at Monkfield Park said

“When we have visitors, their talks can be inspirational.”

“My favourite assembly was Gener8 because they tell the story of Jesus”

“I like how we learn to be kind to each other and to help each other.”

“I like Saint Patrick’s day because we learned why people celebrate that day and it’s good to have an assembly together because we can share our ideas with other children”
